GOP Asks Probe Into Report Of 'Lost' Grain

Council To Study Issue At Special Session

Extension of W. Second St. Protested by Area Residents

City Council met Tuesday night in a City Hall room teaming with visitors, a number of whom "blew the whistle" on the legislative body's announced plans to consider ordinances pertaining to the proposed extension of W. Second St.

As a result, Council will convene in special session next Tuesday evening to consider various legal and practical aspects of furthering plans to extend that street.

Ordinances had been prepared which would make way for an exchange of land rights between the city of Salem and Sekely Industrial Tool & Manufacturing Co.

In the proposed swap, the city would vacate Stewart Ave. south of W. Third St. and deed the vacated property to Sekely, who would grant Salem about fourtenths of an acre of land for a public right of way from Stewart Ave. to Pennsylvania Ave. near the railroad. The land Sekely would be giving the city is the south half of Third St. to Pennsylvania Ave.

Petition Is Presented

A number of persons who live in the area to be directly affected if the W. Second St. extension becomes a reality attended last night's Council session to declare that they do not wish Stewart Ave. closed. In addition, a petition signed by 55 residents and formally executed Tuesday informed Concil that:

"We, the undersigned residents of Stewart Ave. and adjacent stretts, hereby petition City Council to extend Stewart Ave. southerly from Third St. to the proposed westerly extension of W. Second St. for the following reasons, among others:

"1. To permit residents of our area to get to and from the main arteries of traffic without going up the hills of 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th streets in winter weather.

"2. To further justify the westerly extension of Second St. creating connecting streets instead of dead-end streets."

Among visitors to Council was Maurice W. Sechler of RD 1, Salem, representing his mother, Mrs. Renee Sechler of 500 W. Third St., owner of six acres of land in the area under discussion.

Sechler told Council that he believes the city already owns the right of way offered to the city for the vacating of Stewart Ave.

After pausing to examine two maps in the Council Chambers, Councilman Fred W. Koenreich pointed out that discrepancies concerning the matter of ownership of land in the area occur on the maps.

Council asked Solicitor Thomas Coe to rule on the legality of the land swap ordinances which had been prepared for presentation at last night's Council meeting.

Servicemen Warned on Demonstrations

Civil Rights Fight Rages In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional battle over civil rights blazed across many fronts today, from integration in sports stadiums to a proposed investigation of the leaders of racial demonstrations.

Meanwhile, the Pentagon, faced with protests it was encouraging military personnel to take part in demonstrations, issued new orders Tuesday night restricting such activities.

In a memorandum to all the armed services, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara declared:

"It is high inappropriate and unnecessary for military personnel, with their special obligations of citizenship, to participate in such activities.

"I urge every man and woman in uniform to conduct himself accordingly."

McNamara did not specifically forbid members of the armed forces from demonstration in civilian clothes while off duty. But he did say none may demonstrate when the activities constitute a breach of law and order, or when violence is reasonably likely to result.

As expected, most of the steam in the row over President Kennedy's civil rights proposals was coming from the Senate where the Judiciary and the Commerce committees are holding hearings.

Today the Commerce Committee asked Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick and the heads of the National and the American Football leagues, Pete Rozelle and Joe Foss, for their views on legislation to bar segregation in places of public accomodation.

The bill, a key section of the civil rights program, would apply to sports arenas as well as stores, restaurants, hotels and the like.

Gov. Ros R. Barnett of Mississippi, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Atty Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas, all vehement opponents of the bill, urged the committee to investigate what they pictured as Communist influences bent on a divide and conquer strategy.

They singled out Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and said the committee should check on his associates. They did not, however, say they suspected King of being a Communist.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., protested what he termed "guilt by association" and said that "even McCarthyism in the darkest days of that dark episode first heard such charges in executive session."

Inquest Opens In Gold's Death

Missing Teacher Found At Motel

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber opened an inquest into the gangland-style killing of investment promotor Mervin L. Gold today, a few hours after a key witness was located and served with a subpoena to appear at the hearing.

The witness, Miss Allene Leonards, a 24 - year - old Garfield Heights school teacher, was located in a motel at Cuyahoga Falls early today by Raymond Keefe, a coroner's investigator. She had been absent from her home since Monday, when Dr. Gerber issued a subpoena for her to appear at the inquest.

Miss Leonards' attorney, James R. Willis, told newsmen that she had planned to be present at the inquest even if the subpoena hadn't been served.

Dr. Gerber indicated Tuesday night that Gold's widow Lilly; Solon Police Chief John Vondracek, racketeer Alex (Shondor) Birns, and Gerber himself probably would testify today.

Miss Leonards was produced by Birns after he gave himself up

Test Ban Talks Still 'Friendly'

MOSCOW (AP)—All indications still pointed today to the possibility that the Unted States, Britain and the Soviet Union will agree on a partial nuclear test ban in their Moscow talks.

Secrecy still surrounded the daily meetings of U.S. Undersecrecary of State W. Averell Harriman and Lord Hailsham of Britain with top Soviet officials. When sharp disagreement develops, secrecy usually breaks down.

A three-power announcement Tuesday night said the second conference session was conducted "in a friendly atmosphere." Once again all three delegations appeared in good humor as they left the conference.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who opened the conference Monday, was understood to be keeping in close touch with the talks and was expected to take a personal role again soon. Western diplomats considered Khrushchev's interest to be evidence of Soviet readiness to agree on a test ban.

It was understood that Khrushchev, in outlining the Soviet position Monday did not raise any conditions unacceptable to the United States and Britain.

In the past, the Russians have specified conditions which could present serious difficulties for the Western powers. These include an unpoliced moratorium on underground tests and a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic alliance and the East European nations of the Warsaw Pact. Neither is acceptable to the West.

The negotitions now are believed to be concentrated on working out an accord prohibiting nuclear test explosions in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water.

Such an agreement can be monitored against violations by methods of detecting earth shocks, airborne radioactive materials and other evidences of nuclear blasts.

The Soviets and the Western powers are divided over the possibility of detecting underground explosions. Barring some change of position by Khrushchev to permit more than three international

24 Million Bushels 'Vanished'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are pressing for a congressional investigation into reports that 24 million bushels of U.S. grain vanished somewhere on the way to Austria.

The $32 million worth of corn, barley and sorghum "could have gone behind the Iron Curtain" in violation of U.S. barter agreements, said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., Tuesday in demanding a Senate investigation.

Sold In W. Germany?

Or, he said, the grain "may have been diverted and sold in Western Germany for dollars," which would also be a violation.

Barter deals are restricted to non - Communist countries that would not otherwise pay dollars for U.S. farm products.

Lester P. Condon, Agriculture Department inspector general, said evidence uncovered so far does not indicate the grain went behind the Iron Curtain but that some of it might have wound up in West Germany where it could hurt cash markets for U.S. grain.

No Loss to U.S.

Condon said the United States suffered no loss on the shipments intended for Austria because it received the agreed upon minerals in the barter exchange.

Williams said seven importers have been arrested in Austria and that he does not see how the grain could have disappeared without some collusion with someone in this country, although no Americans have been implicated.

Should Join Probe

Williams said the Justice Department should join the investigation.

"This is really big stuff," said Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois in backing Williams request to create a special Senate committee and give it $100,000 to look into the case.

Dirksen said the grain was loaded on ships in this country but apparently never got to Austria.

'Silence Deafening'

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said "the silence has been deafening" since he asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman last month about the disappearance and what was being done to prevent such cases from recurring.

Condon said the department is seeking to prevent any possible repetition by requiring American exporters to submit papers showing where bartered goods are unloaded abroad.

'Ag' Group Acts In Face Of Drouth

Members of the Columbiana County Agriculture Disaster Committee met Tuesday in the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation offices in Lisbon and made application to have Columbiana County become a drought disaster area.

Clifford Shaw of Lisbon is chairman of the group. Others include Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, and Robert McCleaster of Carrollton, district FHA supervisor. Earl Lora, ASC office manager is secretary of the association.

The disaster condition actually doesn't exist now but will unless this district gets normal rainfall in the next few weeks, the committee explained. They have to declare it in advance because of all the necessary steps they must take to get it declared. The resolution must be signed by the governor and then it is sent to Washington for approval.

Several other Ohio counties have also applied for federal crop disaster aid.

One Hurt In Rt. 7 Crash At Rogers

A Youngstown motorist whose car was struck by a truck was the sole person injured Tuesday in three traffic mishaps on district highways. Wet pavement was blamed for one two-car collision.

Edward Durda, 38, of Youngstown received contusions of the lower chest and neck sprain at 7:45 a.m. when his auto, stopped at the Rogers traffic signal on Route 7, was hit from the rear by a truck driven by James A. Cook, 29, of Sharon, Pa. He was treated by a physician.

A patrolman from the Lisbon barracks cited Cook for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

David Lee Hoppel, 22, of RD 2, East Liverpool, was cited by the patrol on the same charge as Cook after Hoppel at 12:45 p.m. plowed into a disabled car operated by Christine Thomas, 39, of 129 E. Park St., Columbiana.

Both vehicles were traveling south on Route 7 when Mrs. Thomas' car developed mechanical trouble about three-tenths of a mile north of Route 14 and stalled on the highway. Hoppel's car struck the rear of the other.

A skid on slippery Route 558, about two miles southeast of the Salem city limits, caused a crash at 9:30 a.m. involving a car and a pickup truck.

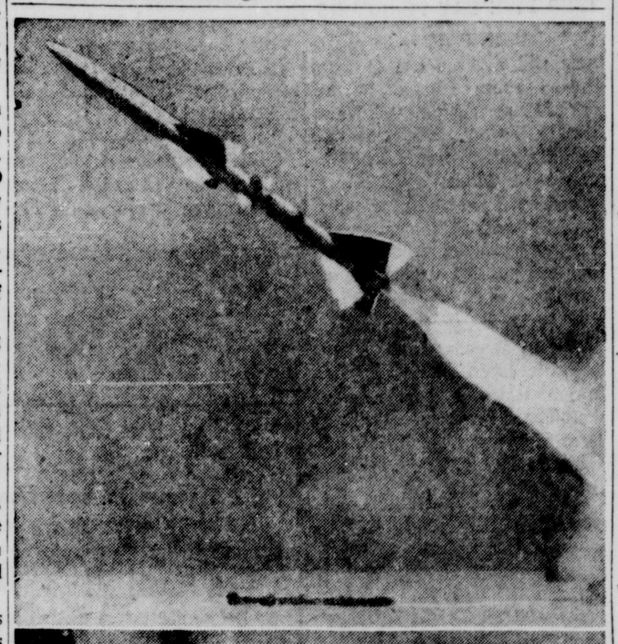

The truck driver, Augustus Baumgardner of Glenmoor, was cited for driving at a speed excessive for road and weather conditions. His vehicle slid on a curve into a car operated by Elizabeth R. Summers, 47, of 411 Anglemyer St., Leetonia.

Study Group Drafts Report on Rail Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid new signals indicating that only Congress will be able to avert a nationwide rail strike, a special presidential panel today grinds out the preliminary draft of its report on the railroad-union showdown over jobs.

The draft will be shown to carriers and union representatives for any additional comments or criticisms before it is put in final form and sent to the White House Friday.

The report, a collection of facts and issues in the four-year dispute, will serve as the basis for the legislation President Kennedy will recommend to Congress on Monday to block the threatened strike.

Tuesday, the chief executives of the members of the Association of American Railroads issued a statement asserting that the unions' position in the jobs dispute leaves legislation as the only means of heading off a "calamitous nationwide rail strike."

The statement asserted that management has made "every effort to get the unions' leaders to engage in realistic negotiations" but they "refused to come to grips with make-work practices across the bargaining table."

Asked for comment, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said he thinks both sides should still be bargaining. Previously he blamed both the carriers and the five operating unions for failing to reach an agreement.

The five unions representing the men who man the trains had no comment on the carriers' charges. But Louis J. Wagner, president of the independent Conductors Union, and Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said the railroads' statement violated a pledge made by both sides not to comment while the presidential panel was making its report.

Congress will have until July 29 to produce legislation to avert a strike.

Last week the rail industry agreed to postpone until then initiation of its new work rules that will gradually eliminate 60,000 jobs it claims are unnecessary. The five unions which contend the jobs are required for safe and efficient train operations, similarly agreed to hold back strike action until July 29.

Boy, 16, Dies on Ride At Idora Park

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Idora Park says the 16-year-old youth killed under the wheels of a roller coaster Tuesday night was the first accidental death there in 10 years.

The victim, Richard Nelson of New Castle, Pa., fell about 25 feet as the ride neared the end of its run. Police said 18 witnesses agreed Nelson and some boys with him had been clowning during the ride.

Negroes Threaten New Demonstrations

Cambridge Committee Studies Race Problem

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — A committee of whites and Negroes sought today to progess toward a solution of this city's racial problems before a new crisis develops.

Negro integrationist leaders served notice that unless some success was reported by the committee by midafternoon, demonsrations would be resumed.

The Negroes called off a demonstration Tuesday in view of the appointment of a human relations committee composed of seven whites and four Negroes.

After an organization meeting night, the committee issued a statement saying it had decided to concentrate on the issue of public accommodations. Negroes have demanded admittance to restaurants, lodging places and other spots hitherto barred to them.

Then, the committee said, it would turn its attention to school inegration and better job and housing opportunities for Negroes. The committee ruled that each member must keep silent.

Stanley Branche, field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said: "If nothing comes out of the committee by 3 p.m. Wednesday, then we start demonstrations again."

National Guardsmen and state police combed an area of the city Tuesday night after Mrs. George Horner, wife of a National Guard lieutenant colonel, reported that as she was walking in her front yard, she heard a shot and something grazed a finger of her left hand.

The Horners live near the Negro area. Col. J. Maurice Tawes, in command of Guard troops, said a projectile of some kind knocked a chip off a cinder block and that the chip grazed Mrs. Horner.

Drastic milita law rules imposed by the National Guard were relaxed but white businessmen were still dissatisfied.

Status Quo For Ohio Blue Law

One thing about the Ohio Blue Law situation was made plain in this year's session of the Ohio General Assembly.

There is hearty behind-the-scenes support for keeping the existing Blue Law on the books. The sources of the support like the law the way it is. They have nothing to gain by changing it.

And how is the law the way it is?

A confused hodge-podge of prohibitions that can be interpreted to suit the desires of anyone who feels like cracking down on Sunday activity or looking the other way.

IT IS AS though Ohioans had turned the Sunday Blue Law into a kind of local option, reflecting whatever happens to be local sentiment of the state of mind of local law enforcers.

This was the situation that set off a clamor for Blue Law reform. Businesses being harassed on the whimsy of local law men and competitors wanted a uniform rule in Ohio covering Sunday operation.

Their argument was taken up by Ohioans with an interest in tidying up the law. This state's antiquated Blue Law is one of the untidiest messes in the statutes, a monstrosity that has lingered through generations of time for no better reason than inability to come to agreement on what to do about it.

The inability still prevails.

NOTHING was done about the Blue Law in the 105th General Assembly, now in recess until next December. It is unlikely anything will be done about it then, either.

The reason is that Ohioans who want to tidy up the Blue Law mess outweighed by Ohioans who like the mess the way it is—messy enough to give them the general effect of local option.

They can crack down or wink at Sunday business, depending on local circumstances. And what some of the circumstances are, if known, might turn out to be bluer than the Blue Law itself.

Like Ants At a Picnic

The arrest of eight men in connection with riots at a violence-ridden Bronx diner brings into the open the grisliest danger of racial friction. The eight were hooked up with neo-Nazism and are charged with plans to incite a riot.

Clashes draw extremists the way a picnic attracts ants.

This is a classical pattern of trouble — this tendency of violent people to capitalize on trouble. They are the lurking danger in all civil unrest.

They bob up in strikes. They are waiting to exploit tension in the civil rights demonstrations.

Most to be feared are "young toughs," spoiling for a fight. But not to be disregarded are the "old toughs"—unprincipled fomenters of trouble for trouble's sake.

THESE PEOPLE are not susceptible to appeals for moderation.

They are beyond the reach of discipline.

They are mob organizers.

In every situation that threatens to upset law and order they are the people most to be feared.

The question is whether they may defeat by irresponsible acts the causes that give them cover and an excuse to run amuck.

They flocked into Little Rock. They showed up at the University of Mississippi. They were on the job in Birmingham. They have been busy in Cambridge.

They will take advantage of the scheduled march on Washington next month.

THEIR ABILITY to make trouble is not in itself a reason to be opposed to demonstrations.

That line of reasoning would make it impossible for Americans to express themselves in any collective way lest they run into trouble.

But self-defeating violence has plagued Americans throughout the history of attempts to seek solutions to their problems.

Controversy attracts violent natures.

The possibility of trouble does not justify repression of everything that might call attention to controversy.

It does call for full awareness of the problem and the danger. The ants never miss a picnic.

Subject to Government Controversy

The delicate question of licensing and of free public debate are involved in growing controversy in Congress on the broadcasting of editorials by television and radio stations.

Until 1949 the Federal Communications on the air by its licensees. After the FCC reversed itself, many broadcasters regarded themselves essentially as showmen, with entertainment their sole or primary mission.

But with FCC encouragement, broadcast editorializing has flourished of late, particularly in radio. It has become important enough to bring on a five-day investigation starting July 15 by a communications subcommittee of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

Criticism of editorializing spilled over last month in House debate on suspension of the "equal time" rule of the federal communications law in time for the 1964 campaign.

Although the suspension carried by a 263-162 vote and is expected to pass the Senate, critics left no doubt they have no idea of giving electronic commentators a free rein. those who believe in free speech and govrnmnt officials who never will let would-be free speakers forget that radio and television stations are licensed by government and therefore subject to government control.

The National Association of Broadcasters through its editorializing committee has announced it is "unalterably opposed" to government attempts to limit freedom of expression on the air.

It is significant that the new questions about broadcast editorializing arose in the House of Representatives, whose members must stand for re-election every two years. Understandably they are worried about attacks over the air.

JUST AS understandably, responsible broadcasters resent the threat of censorship.

Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Texas, in announcing Communications and Power subcommittee hearings, said:

'An editorial supporting the Community Chest is one thing. An editorial supporting or opposing a political candidate is quite another. In still another category are those editorials expressing positions on hotly contested political issues. These hearing may show that in establishing safeguard against abuses it would be necesary to differentiate among the types of editorials."

It wouldn't be so bad if it was as easy to stop doing nothing as it is to start.

The Breakup

By Truman Twill

Speaking of conditions in Europe, pundit Walter Lippmann says:

"The confusion and the disarray, the aimlessness and bewilderment, which are more or less prevalent everywhere, are the concomitants of the breakup of an established order."

I will take Lippmann's word for it that this is happening in Europe, if he will take my word for it that the same thing is happening in the United States. You don't have to be a pundit to know that confusion, disarray, aimlessness and bewilderment are prevalent here, too.

Millions of us are trapped between two eras. We long for the one fading out of sight and are baffled by the one coming into being. We are waving hail and farwell at the same time.

The conceptions we grew up with mark us as fuddy-duddies, not because we are that old but because they appear neolithic to people only slightly younger than we are.

We find the rules we assumed men should live by are rejected out of hand as often as not by men who put no credence in them.

A sample of the bind we're in is space age technology.

We've no more idea than a rabbit what space age technologists are talking about when they calculate how to perform their incredible stunts. Yet, they chide us for not drooling over the privilege of mortgaging everything we have to pay for their hobby. They accuse us of trying to block progress.

We talk about being self-reliant and standing on our own two feet, by George, and not counting on help from anybody — and then along comes a genius with a invention that makes us obsolete.

We fight to the last ditch, by golly, to keep goverment from edging in on us and nibbling our moral fiber because we must carry on in the spirit of the pioneers. But in the same breath we must be enthusiastic about private paternalism for our everlasting benefit — in the spirit of true-blue Americanism.

It's pretty puzzling, this confusion, dirarray, aimlessness and bewilderment.

The kind of government we learned about in sad-sack civics courses isn't the kind we learn about when we grapple with it cheek

Somebody keeps switching the labels on the bottles. Take mass production, for example, the biggest thing that happened in our generation. The idea was to make everything cheaper by making everything plentiful. It was like sharing the wealth.

But when we mention this now we are looked at with scorn and pity. We don't understand economics, nor brotherhood, nor a lot of things.

We certainly don't understand government. We thought public servants were what the name sounds like — servants who worked for the public. Now are informed it is the other way around. We work for the servants, who take the first cut out of all our earnings then tell us what to do with the rest.

This is the way it goes, all the way down th e list. We are being pried loose from everything we thought was fundamental, yet we aren't being converted to anything else.

As pundit Lippman says, it's the "breakup of an established order."

He was talking about Europe.

The rest of us are talking about the United States — right here.

Will Red China Be the Instigator of 3rd War?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

David Lawrence

Are the present talks at Moscow on a nuclear test ban just the prelude to a long series of negotiations that will eventually prove as fruitless to prevent World War III as the same kind of parleys were before each of the last two big wars?

For the realistic fact is that Red China is capable of provoking a world conflict. The Peking government is about to test its first atomic bomb. Quantity production may be years away, but it takes only a few bombs to intimidate neighboring countries in an attempt to acquire more territory. China has a number of Soviet - trained scientists and a test of the first bomb is expected in a few months. So the tactics of error can begin now.

Red China, in breaking away from Russia, may, of course, loe some economic and military support, but this doesn't prevent t port, but this doesn't prevent it from threatening countries in Southeast Asia and even starting an attack on Formosa or Korea if it suits its purpose.

The Peking leaders are bent on a nationalistic course and on the building of an empire of their own to dominate Asia. They feel that nuclear weapons are essential to the satisfaction of their national ambitions. A nuclear-test agreement in Moscow that doesn't include a means of stopping further aggression by Red China is not going to prevent a war in Asia, which could eventually involve Japan as well as the United States and lead to a world war.

Negotiations at "high level" such as are going on in Moscow this week, or even "summit" talks which are being hinted at already, cannot solve the problem. Mere conversation at high levels has proved ineffective in preventing the last two world wars.

WORLD WAR I, for instance, was preceded by a series of conferences. Even the United States, known then as an "isolationalist' country, took a hand in attempting to prevent a big war.

President Wilson tried hard to avert it, and in May 1914 sent his personal ambassador, Col. E. M. House, on a trip to Europe that lasted several weeks.

The latter had long private talks with Emperor William of Germany and Sir Edward Grey, the feor ing iim n roes eftarGt the foreign minister of Great Britain. There was procrastination on both sides, and the informal mediation got nowhere.

Col. House revealed in his memoirs many years later what he had written to the American ambassador at London, Walter Hines Page, just after the war broke out in August 1914:

"It is all a bad business, and just think how near we came to making such a catastrophe impossible! If England had moved a little faster and had let me go back to Germany, the thing, perhaps, could have been done."

But Ambassador Page wrote in reply:

"No, no, no — no power on earth could have prevented it. The German militarism, which is the crime of the last 50 years, has been working for this for 25 years.

"It is the logical result of their spirit and enterprise and doctrine. It had to come. But, of course they chose the wrong time and the wrong issue. Militarism has no judgment. Don't let your conscience be worried. You did all that any mortal man could do. But nobody could have done anything effective. We've got to see to it that this system doesn't grow up again — that's all."

SCARCELY HAD these memoirs been published when the events leading to the outbreak of World War II, based on almost identical factors, were the subject of the same kind of frantic efforts by negotiation and even appeasement at such conferences as those held before and after Munich in 1938. But World War II came in 1939 — just 25 years after the first one.

What does all this portend with reference to a possible World War III? In both periods prior to the two major wars, peoples in all countries were in the dark about what was happening. There is somewhat more being published today about the diplomatic conversations that are going on, but there's a lot being suppressed, too.

Fundamentally, what was wrong before 1914 and before 1939 is wrong today. The peoples of the world — the prospective victims—are unable to bring their influence to bear on their governments.

Secrecy of negotiation has some merit, but not at the expense of essential facts that need to be stated and restated publicly.

Thus, for instance, the problem today is not nuclear-test agreements or even a non-aggression treaty with the Communist bloc in Eastern Europe, through the Warsaw Pact, as Khrushchev demands. It is the need for exposure of what imperialistic ambition, with its militaristic instruments, means in relation to what is actually going on now in the so-called "cold war" in Cuba and Latin America, as well as in the Middle East, Africa and Southeast Asia.

INFILTRATION and encroachment and even aggression were rampant before World War I and World War II, and rivalries were well publicized. The crimes of an autocratic government were not, however, brought out then and are not being hammered home today to the peoples of all countries as penetratingly as they should be.

The Iron Curtain, realistically, extends beyond Eastern Europe and reaches into many countries in the West where apathy and indifference to the menace of Communist imperialism prevails.

This is as dangerous as is the failure of the peoples inside the Soviet Union and inside Red China to learn the whole truth — that they may be destroyed by the folly of their own rulers.

Meanwhile, must the rest of the world live under a reign of terror, or will the ingenuity of man devise ways and means of reaching into the hearts and minds of sensible humans behind the Iron Curtain?

"He Says It Can't Wait!"

Justice and the Poor

Robert Kennedy is active on as many fronts as there are social issues and conflicts. Victor Riesel asked the attorney general to discuss one of the laws which he has proposed, but which has not been in the news as heavily as the other drives in which he is engaged.

By ROBERT F. KENNEDY
Attorney General of the United States

The scales of justice in this country are weighted against the poor.

Each year, 10.000 persons—nearly 30 per cent of all the defendants in federal criminal cases—must receive the services of court-appointed attorneys because they cannot afford to pay their own.

In many cases, these appointed attorneys carry out their duties with diligence and responsibility. But the fact remains that they must do so for free. We have proceeded on the assumption that society's obligation to the accused can be redeemed simply by telling private lawyers:

"Defend this man. Give him your time and your advice. Protect his rights. And then pay for it out of your own pocket."

THESE LAWYERS are not reimbursed even for their out-of-pocket costs. They will not receive a shred of assistance from investigators or expert witnesses. They often will not be appointed until long after arrest, when witnesses may have disappeared and leads grown stale.

How wrong this system is was made clear in a recent study we had conducted for the Department of Justice. The study found that often, poor defendants plead guilty because their appointed attorneys realize the futility of trying to contest a case without adequate resources.

Defendants in this position enter guilty pleas much more often—in some areas three times as often—than defendants with the money to hire their own attorneys.

And such defendants, the study showed, have less chance to get charges against them dismissed, less chance of acquittal if they go to trial and less chance for probation instead of jail if they are convicted.

A system which permits—indeed encourages—such a difference is unfair to defendants. It is a burden on private attorneys. It denies equal justice. It demands correction.

THAT IS WHY this administration has sponsored and strongly urges the enactment of the Criminal Justice Act of 1963. We believe it is the most comprehensive yet flexible solution ever devised to the problem.

The Criminal Justice Act would require, for the first time, that a system of adequate representation must be established in every federal district. Each district has freedom to devise a plan best suited to its local needs.

The choice of a plan is wide, but a choice must be made. There is no option to do nothing to permit inadequate representation to continue in any federal court.

There are four choices: To continue to appoint private attorneys, but to pay them $15 an hour for their services; to establish a paid public defender s office; to use legal aid or private defender organizations, also paid at the $15 rate, or a combination of these plans.

THE $15 FIGURES is substantially less than the minimum recommended by bar associations for charges to private clients. We believe, however, that it is fair. The further fairness of reimbursing appointed attorneys for out-of-pocket expenses is plain.

Providing for paid attorneys is fundamental. But an adequate defense requires more than representation in court. Equally important are defense services.

For example, the poor man cannot hire an investigator to find the witnesses and evidence which may be indispensable to his case. He cannot retain a physician, psychiatrist or handwriting expert. The importance of skilled investigation is underscored in police work every day. It works the same way for the defense.

Not long ago, in the District of Columbia, an appointed defense attorney—through the investigative facilities of the Legal Aid Agency—was able to expose facts damaging to the government's principal witnesses. These were facts the government previously did not know, and the case, as a result, was dismissed.

CONGRESS now has the opportunity—and, indeed, the responsibility—to enact a comprehensive solution to the federal problem. In the process, it can provide a model for the states to follow.

I believe the Department of Justice shares responsibility for the administration of justice in our courts. This responsibility is not to see that the prosecutor prevails, but that justice does.

This is not a welfare problem, nor a matter for charity. Insuring a poor man of a proper defense will not give him anything to relieve him of his poverty. It will simply recognize his right to equal justice.

In the words of the epigram on a wall of my office: "The United States wins its point whenever justice is done its citizens in its courts.

Big spenders are good for the economy---if they'd only spend their own money.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest your answer to the lady who complained because her young man did not leave a tip when they ate out.

You said tipping is part of our system — a built-in custom — and that many people depend on tips for a living.

I'm a salesman. I travel a great deal and I eat out five days a week. If a waitress looks my way a couple of times during a meal, brings over the coffee jug for a second cup, or sees to it that my water glass is filled, I feel she deserves a tip and she gets it.

But what about that sloppy dame who throws a sandwich and a cup of coffee at you? The one who is so busy yakking with another waitress about what a weed she was out with last night? Or the one who is too busy to notice that your fork has egg on it? Does she deserve a tip?

I drew one of these floozies at lunch today. She said, "I'm going off duty so you can tip me now! Frankly, I felt like tipping her over.

May we hear from you again on this? — SAN BERNARDINO SAM.

Dear Sam: Tipping IS a built-in-custom, and many people do depend on tips for a living, but a tip should say, "Thank you for good service. It should not say, "Thank you for ignoring and insulting me."

A tip is a reward not an obligation. Every customer has the right to expect, in return for his tip, pleasant and courteous attention and reasonably good service.

Trouble Makers

Dear Ann: Why would a person go out of his way to cause trouble and dissension among members of a family? What makes an individual delight in creating unhappiness and friction among relatives?

Please explain, if you can, why some people must dominate others to the point where they rob them of self-respect and confidence and virtually drain the life out of them?

I have witnessed this strange behavior for 20 years and I'm no closer to understanding it now than when I married into this family. Can you give me some insight?—UNSOLVED MYSTERY.

Dear Unsolved Mystery: Cruel and domineering people are themselves very unhappy. Contented, fulfilled individuals are willing to live and let live. They have no desire to punish or destroy those around them.

The best protection against vicious, destructive individuals, be they friends or relatives, is to understand such behavior and then steer clear of their punitive shenanigans.

Mercenary Wife

Dear Ann: Because I believe you are on the side of Truth, and not on the side of Women — as some men claim — I'm writing to express my views on middle-aged Lotharios. Will you comment, please?

I firmly believe that most married men don't want mistresses or extra-curricular affairs. They want the woman they married. But where is she?

As "things" become the almighty measure of success to a woman, love diminishes in importance. And it doesn't matter if the man earns 20 or 30 or 40 thousand dollars a year. There are always friends or relatives who make more. His status as husband and lover shrinks as her appetite for clothes, cars, furs, trips and jewelry increases.

How can a marriage provide a fulfilling physical relationship when a wife takes to bed with her a whole host of unsatisfied yearnings? She isn't thinking about him, she's thinking about new draperies and a third car.

And this is why middle-aged men wander away from hearth and home. The fire is out — and they go in search of warmth and comfort. — VOICE OF EXPERIENCE.

Dear Voice: Your letter is a fine example of what a man can expect when he marries a cash register instead of a woman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cubans Give Their Views on Fidel Castro

'Batista a Saint, By Comparison'

By GEORGE ARFELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Cuban peasant, once a cheering supporter of Fidel Castro, today mutters increasingly against the Communist regime which has made a joke of land reform, while encroaching day by day on his way of life.

Still as appallingly poor as before the advent of the bearded ruler, most peasants this correspondent met during his stay in Cuba yearn for a return to the past. They say that then, at least they were free to do as they pleased.

"Things have never been so bad bfore," a 68-year-old retired cattle foreman said, shaking his head.

"Fidel has turned (former dictator Fulgencio) Batista into a saint, by comparison," commented a Matanzas Province squatter.

"Had Batista been satisfied with stealing only three, maybe four million pesos, maybe all would have gone well," the squatter added.

For the peasant, life in the backlands is rough. Shortages are far more acute than those experienced in Havana.

"Havana is paradise, compared to Oriente Province," a Negro peasant said.

Milk, beef, rice, bread, even sugar, are frequently absent from country store shelves for long periods.

Take the case of Pipo Diaz, a Pinar del Rio Province squatter, who lives in a thatched wooden hut with his wife and five children.

He claims he has had no beef for almost a year, because peasants are forbidden to slaughter their steers and no meat is being sent from the cities.

The whitewashed hut lies up from a brook, between a patch of corn and some native potato plants. Pipo's children romp around the hut clad in faded cottons. None wears shoes.

"For more than a year now there've been no boots or shoes for us 'guajiros' (peasants). If you want boots you have to join the militia or a government cooperative," Pipo says.

"Everything is a mess these days," his wife chips in. She bends over an open charcoal fire, fanning the embers on which the noon meal cooks. "Cooking oil—when we get it—tastes like motor oil; lard is poor and mostly rancid; they are always out of hard crackers. To get a tin of evaporated milk you have to obtain a coupon from the Committee of the Defense of the revolution."

Lunch is served boiled cornmeal with a handful of chopped onion on top and boiled malange. Black coffee.

Why doesn't Pipo raise more chickens and hogs, or plant more vegetables?

"First of all," he explains, "at the prices the government pays us for pigs and produce we make no profit and are never sure they will pay. Secondly, in case we harvest a surplus, they'll force us to sell it to them."

Pipo shows off his three-room hut. In the bedroom there are two large beds: one for the couple and the latest baby, the other for the three boys and the 12-year-old girl.

In the living room two rocking chairs face each other. Stiff posing relatives and startled infants peer from framed sepia photographs. A faded picture of Castro torn from a magazine is tacked to the wall.

"You never know who'll come around," Pipo shrugs.

As it does with other independent farmers who refuse to toe the party line, the governmnt is applying subtle pressure to force Pipo to join a cooperative or peoples farm. Unless he does so, it will be increasingly difficult for him to obtain feed, fertilizer, boots wire and other farming implements.

Since joining a state cooperative means growing what the government determines and then turning over a high percentage of the crop to the regime, Pipo feels he'd "rather be killed" than buckle under. Later he concedes that with six mouths to feed, maybe he will eventually have to give in.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: My experience when altering a dress hem on a ready-made dress, and attempting to reuse that perfectly matched thread, has been that it to warrant trying one's patience.

But, I have a found a way to eliminate the knotting.

As the thread is ravelled from the material, wind it around a glass or small pill bottle and immerse in cold water. Set aside. When it has thoroughly dried, you will have thread just like new, it will always be the correct shade, won't knot.

DEAR HELOISE: When making crumbs (such as when using corn flakes) for breading, place the crumbs in a collander and shake the collander gently over a dish. The small - sized crumbs will go through the collander, making then a uniform size for your breading.

The remaining large crumbs may be re-crushed. Sure saves time and makes lovely uniform crumbs.

DEAR HELOISE: My son accidentally sat in some chewing gum. He was wearing corduroy trousers. Not knowing what to do, I just put the soiled section in a pail of cold water and left it over night. The next morning most of it had crumbled off and what was left I gently removed with a razor blade.

MILDRED ELSEY.

DEAR MILDRED: An hour before removing the garment had you filled your pail of water with some ice cubes I don't think you would have needed the razor blade. Try that next time.

And have you ever heard of putting blue jeans or cotton shirts in your deep freeze and after the garment and gum is frozen . . . removing it and flicking the gum off?

This is also wonderful for shoes!

Place items in sealed plastic bag before freezing so frost won't form.

DEAR HELOISE: About the lady who thinks rain is harmful to clothes that she left on her clothesline:

It is my opinion and experience that rain, being soft water and minus the chemicals, is good for clothes!

I have intentionally left things on the line during the rain and found them much softer for use. Also, if there is any truth to rain filtering out dirt and dust from the air, it doesn't hurt my clothes. She will realize that after the first few seconds of rain . . there would be no dust and dirt left in the air to accumulate in the heavier rain after it starts.

I also find rain water is perfect to use in steam irons. It must be clean, of course. I usually set out dishpans or clean plastic waste baskets in the open when a good downpour comes and I have saved myself buying distilled water.

"CHIEF RAINWATER".

Ladies, if you catch the rain off the house in your downpour spout, I suggest that you let it settle so that the dirt and dust (which it collects while pouring off the roof and down the water spout) will settle on the bottom. And really I can't knock it, gals. I've tried it, I've tested, so has my chemist. We all agree.

Heloise.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you tried the adhesive moleskin on a wrinkly brassiere yet: It works so well for us heavyweights.

GLADCS CARTER

Ladies, it actually works! I also tried it on a stay that pinched my bone on a long-lined bra . . . Thanks to Gladys for telling us.

National FARM SAFETY WEEK

JULY 22-28

FAMILY SAFETY—AT WORK AND PLAY

SAFE FARM — The National Safety Council has made the week of July 22-28 National Farm Safety Week. Each day of the week will keynote one particular facet of farm life safety. These include rural highway, chemical, machinery and recreation safety.

DOWN on the FARM

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON AP) — Just what the federal government will do about a stabilization program for wheat next year remains as much a question as on May 22—the day after growers voted down a rigid control program advanced by the Kennedy administration.

There were reports last week that the administration would trot out a combined feed grain and wheat program designed to limit overproduction as much as possible without mandatory controls.

There was speculation that it migh include a cross-compliance regulation requiring feed grain growers to plant within their wheat allotments in order to be eligible for benefits of the feed grain program. The latter offers price supports and payments to farmers reducing acreages of corn, barley and sorghum grain.

But this week the signals appear to have been changed. Talk of a combined feed grain and wheat program has been dropped. Some farm leaders have urged that the feed grain program not be linked with wheat's problem.

A decision one way or the other will have to be made before many weeks. Farmers begin seeding winter barley and wheat in the late summer, and no action by Congress means unlimited production and substantially lower price supports on next years crop.

Meanwhile, the American Farm Bureau Federation is saying that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman appears determined to try to prevent new wheat legislation. The Federation led the fight that defeated the administration's tight control plan for wheat. It told farmers during the referendum campaign that there would be time for Congress to enact a more favorable program — one abandoning production and marketing controls, providing price supports at world price levels and retiring grain land on a voluntary bid basis.

A House Agriculture Subcommittee on wheat plans to hold a two-day hearing July 22-23 on the situation. But there is no assurance that it will propose new legislation.

OKs Water Tank Repair, Street Work

Columbiana Council Meets

By MRS. CHARLES WRIGHT

COLUMBIANA — Council, meeting Tuesday night, voted to have necessary repairs made to the seams of the elevated water tank on S. West St.

The request for repairs was made by Mayor Lee Harrold who stated that a recent inspection by the board of trustees of public affairs revealed the need and said that neglect might cause interruption of service and prove a detriment to health.

Emergency legislation was passed to have the Continental Fremont Co. make the repairs. Repairs to the tank were last made in 1959.

Objects To Sewer Rates

Appearing at the meeting were Leland Bricker of 47 S. Cross St. and David Young of 203 Stanton Dr. who objected to the substantial rate of increase in sewer rates and to the way in which the rates were presented to the public.

Bricker asked why the ordinance was passed on an emergency basis. Solicitor Jack Kuhlman explained the ordinance was given two readings to allow citizens to voice any objections they might have. Then the ordinance was rejected on the third reading and passed on an emergency basis permitting it to become immediately effective. This would allow the village to comply with a government ruling that the sewage plant must be in operation within six months in order to be eligible to receive a $270,000 grant from the government.

Young objected to the method used in presenting the rate to the citizenry, stating that the ordinary person did no understand in terms of dollars and cents the meaning of the increase when it was preseted in terms of gallons. His suggestion was that a comparative rate should have been provided.

Paving Authorized

Council directed Solicitor Kuhlman to advertise for bids for 15,000 square yards of seal coating to be delivered to the job site in the village. The seal-coating will be used in the repair of S. Main St. from the railroad tracks to the street car tracks, on the east side of S. Main St. south to the first alley north of Duquesne St. and on E. Park Ave. from the Youngstown and Southern tracks to the city limits. Approximately 900 tons of "hot mix" will be needed.

Council also passed an emergency ordinance accepting the bid of Robert Snyder of Hanoverton, for the amount of 15,000 square yards of seal coating at 30 cents per square yard including labor and materials. Seal coating from this bid will be used in renovting N. Vine Ave., Friend St., Allen Ave. and other streets and alleys.

Clerk George Snoke read a recommendation from the board of trustees of public affairs to the effect that a Deming 500-gpm submersible booster pump be purchased from the Topco Co. of Salem for the sum of $1,200.55 Council suspended the rules and passed a resolution accepting the bid.

In other business, an ordinance in behalf of the Riise Engineering Co. at Pittsburgh and Elm St. vacating the north 122.90 feet of Walnut Alley was approved.

Also passed under the suspension of rules was an ordinance permitting the vacation of the undedicated portion of Highland Ave. from E. Friend St. south for 150 feet.

John Robinson, new councilman, was sworn in by Solicitor Kuhlman to fill the two and one-half unexpired term of Harry Fullerton who resigned last month due to ill health.

Members of the Commercial Workers Association—CIO, union at the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., staged a walkout Tuesday afternoon and today in the Salem and Youngstown exchanges.

William J. McKay, Ohio Bell commercial manager here, said the unauthorized work stoppage apparently stems from a protest over the training program in the traffic department.

Inquest

for questioning about the slaying of the 33-year-old financial manipulator as Birns' alibi witness for July 5—the night Gold was killed.

She has told authorities she was with Birns in a suburban restaurant until 10:30 of the night of the Gold slaying. Mrs. Gold said her husband left their fashionable $70,000 suburban Pepper Pike home that night to see Birns.

Gerber said if Miss Leonards has not shown up when all inquest testimony is completed, he will recess the inquest, reconvening it whenever she is located, even though she stays away a month.

Gold, twice convicted in connection with his twisted financial dealings, had left with his wife sealed affidavits with instructions to turn them over to federal authorities if he met with foul play.

The affidavits connected Birns with stolen Canadian bonds. Birns surrendered to authorities last Thursday but denied any knowledged of Gold s death or the stolen bonds. He was released from jail Friday night on $50,000 bond.

Gerber ordered the inquest after a half-hour interrogation of Birns in which, he said, Birns insisted he had no information to give about the Gold murder.

The patrol said Mrs. Sosnick's car struck the side of McCreadie's auto at the intersection of Bandy and Courtney Rds. in Smith Township. He was thrown from the vehicle and fatally injured.

The victim's wife, Bessie McCreadie, 50, and his 13-year-old daughter, Barbara, and Suanne Becker, 14, of Alliance were injured.

Council

Sekely company so wished, it could fence off Stewart Ave. Both Aldom and Council President Ford Joseph Jr. indicated advantages to the residents if the proposed extension of W. Second St. is allowed to become a reality.

"I do hope the whole extension project is not to be lost because of a mere 150 feet," declared Aldom.

Council President Joseph commented:

"It will be almost impossible for Council to act favorably upon the petition presented by the 55 residents because Stewart Ave. bisects the Sekely property, and to extend Stewart Ave. we would have to receive permission from Sekely."

Favored By SAIDC

The immediate reason for the extension of W. Second St. is to provide ingress and egress to the Sekely tool and die plant. However, the Salem Area Industrial Development Corporation sees an additional advantage in having the extension become reality: Namely, access to and from the former Smith Well Field, a 58-acre tract which the city is holding in reserve as a future industrial site. In May, 1960, the city optioned the land to SAIDC for a 10-year period.

The SAIDC has said it will improve the land by draining, grading and clearing of all debris in an effort to make the site attractive to prospective industries.

To hear Solicitor Coe's ruling on the legality of the ordiances which would provide for the exchange of land between the city and Sekely, Council President Joseph called a special Council session for next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Jennings Ave. Proposal

At that time Council will also consider three other matters:

Whether all residents of Jennings Ave. should be charged at the same footage rate for repair of the street in front of their homes regardless of the condition of the road before the repaving; information from the city engineer regarding the cost of repaving Wilson St.; and the advisability of amending a 1952 enacted ordinance dealing with federal aid urban system routes.

Councilman Charles Gibbs suggested at last night's meeting that the 1952 ordinance will need to be amended if federal funds ar to be obtained for the repair of Jennings Ave. Mayor Dean B. Cranmer said he believed the 11-year-old ordinance had already been amended so that Jennings Ave. could be included for federal funds.

Before next Tuesday's meeting, research of past ordinances is expected to establish whether or not the 1952 measure has been amended.

Butler Township Trustees Adopt $55,661 Budget

Butler Township Trustees have approved a 1964 budget of $55,661.71. Last year's budget was $55,168.

Here is the budget breakdown: $13,354.18, general fund; $9,609.68, road and bridges fund; $8,652.04, gas tax fund; $6,109 motor vehicle license fund; two mill road levy, $9,583.95; Winona street lighting, $943.36; Damascus street lighting, $1,101.05; cemetery fund, $1,369.80; fire protection fund $4,938.65.

President Donald Cameron reported that the Shelton Rd. approach has been improved and that grading and maintenance work on the road itself has been completed. Oil-coating in front of homes to lay dust has also been finished.

Brush cutting along roadside was reportedly progressing well, and slag for the seal-coating program has been delivered to the township stockpiles.

Bills totaling $1,640.19 were approved for payment. The next meeting is Aug. 5.

W. Reserve Board To Act On Budget

BERLIN CENTER — The Western Reserve School District Board of Education tonight will adopt its 1964 budget at a public hearing and consider the possibility of asking voter renewal of an operating levy this fall.

Robert Buchanan of Smith, Buchanan & Smith, Youngstown architectural firm, is expected to be present to discuss progress at the new high school.

Head custodian Frank Spellman will report on summer maintenance work, including painting at the Berlin Center and Ellsworth buildings.

The Guard decreed the restrictions after six white persons were wounded in a night of terror last week.

Board Cautions On Levy Procedure

The Columbiana County Board of Elections today urged subdivisions filing tax levies for renewal at the November general election to check with their legal advisor because many are being turned in with the wrong millage listed.

Frank O'Hanlon, clerk, said the millage was reduced on levies adopted two or three years ago when the new tax valuation went into effect after the reappraisal by County Auditor Kenneth Bell's office.

For example, a three-mill levy under the old valuation may have been reduced to 2.6 mills under the new valuation as a levy is allowed only to provide the amount of money for which it was originally intended.

The board is being flooded with tax levies. Most of which are renewals approved four or five years ago. Based on the current valuation, the original levy now would return more money.

their regular board meeting July 9.

The board will put on the ballot at the Nov. 5 election a 3-mill operating levy for a five-year period. If passed it would bring the school board another $36,300 yearly in revenue for operation.

The board gave Supt. Oliver Payne another one-year contract at a salary of $10,000, the same as when he was hired in August of 1962.

Supt. Payne discussed the securing of an industrial arts teacher and suggested to the board that a second industrial arts teacher be employed. He also discussed the transportation problem and reported on the textbook fund for the balance of 1963.

Supt. Payne also discussed needed improvements in the schools which include better supervision, courses of study and inventories of materials and teaching aids.

The board authorized the installation of new lights in the cafeteria and kitchen at the Lincoln School before the September term begins.

The boards next regular meeting is scheduled for Aug. 13 at 8:30 p.m. failures.

The Ohio Crop Reporting Service assigned a fruit production index of 53 per cent to the current harvests, the lowest yield in records dating from 1924.

Apples survived the severe winter only to be hit by the late May freeze and more recently by drought. Low-lying orchards in northastern and eastern areas were especially hard hit and many complete crop failures are reported, the crop surveyors said.

The statewide apple crop is now estimated at 2.2 million bushels, about 60 per cent of last year's production and the lowest since 1948.

Peaches were almost totally destroyed by winter cold and the low condition of surviving trees presents a "very dismal" picture for the future, the service reported.

2 Seeking Hanover Township Positions

Three candidates filed with the Board of Elections today for township posts.

Alfred Stoudt of Hanoverton RD 1, filed for re-election as Hanover Township Clerk and Robert Cole of Salineville has filed for re-election in Washington Township.

Chester L. Stuckey filed Tuesday for Hanover Township trustee.

FINED FOR FIRECRACKER

LISBON — John A. Jarvis, 18, of Salineville, was given a $10 suspended fine Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for disturbing the peace, after he threw a fire cracker out of a car July 4. He was cited by Constable Forrest Young of Franklin Township.

Jennings Avenue Group Protests Paving Assessment

Expressing the belief that repairs to the northern, asphalted section of Jennings Ave. to the end of the curbing are not as extensively needed as are repairs to the southern section of the street, northern area residents appeared at City Council Tuesday night to say they were surprised at the assessments recently received from the city.

The assessments for all Jennings Ave. residents were made 91 cents per frontage foot.

Visitors at City Council declared that in the area of Jennings Ave. north of a curve, the road needs only repairing rather than re-paving. They said the condition of the street south of a point near Eighth St. si markedly different than the asphalt - covered section.

One of the Jennings Ave. residents at City Council session last evening was Atty. A. L. Fitch who told Council: "I'm not officially representing my neighbors, but I believe they are justified in thinking that they are being unfairly assessed." He said that it is obvious that less money per foot would be necessary for repairing Jennings north of the curb.

Council will consider the question of road improvement assessments for Jennings Ave. at a special meeting next Tuesday.

In other Council action last night, an ordinance was given third reading and unanimously passed establishig a purchase, maintenance and repair of equipment reserve fund for the placement of monies to be usd for the current and future purchase, maintenance and repair of city equipment. This ordinance was introduced June 18 by Councilman Jack Rance.

Also last night, a measure introduced by Councilman Harold Astry was given all three readings and passed, authorizing payment of a $80.75 claim filed by Richard Loutzenhiser to reimburse him for unnecessary work done by him on a water line on the advice and direction of an employe of the city water department.

Test Ban

inspections in the Soviet Union underground appears out of the question at this time.

In Washington a close associate of President Kennedy said if agreement is reached on a test ban, Kennedy and Khrushchev might exchange pledges of nonaggression. These pledges, the source said, might include a statement from Khrushchev that he does not contemplate an ultimatum over Berlin and from Kennedy that the United States would refrain from military action to change borders in Europe, including those of East Germany.

Highway Patrolmen Are Re-assigned

Patrolman R. W. Franklin of the State Highway Patrol barracks at Castalia will transfer next week for an assignment with the Lisbon post. He is a graduate of the 51st class of the State Highway Patrol Training School at Columbus. He will take the place of M. K. Myers, who has left for duties with the Jackson post.

Try This Blue Berry Pie

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Beautiful to look at and wonderful to eat—those dark blue, plump cultivated blueberries now adding color to our local markets.

For today, how about a super meringue pie jeweled with them?

BLUEBERRY MERINGUE PIE
(8 servings)

1½ cups fresh cultivated blueberries, 3 cups cornflakes (about 1½ cups crumbs), 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 egg whites, ¾ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon almond extract, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar.

Rinse fresh blueberries and spread between layers of absorbent towels to dry thoroughly.

Crush cornflakes to make 1½ cups of crumbs. Mix crumbs with 2 tablespoons sugar. Let butter soften to room temperature and mix cornflake crumbs and butter together thoroughly.

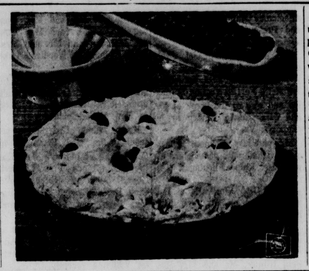

Use crumb mixture to line a 9-inch pie plate, pressing crumbs with back of spoon to get an even layer on bottom and sides of pie plate. Bake shell at 375 degrees for 10 minutes. Let cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Gradually add sugar in very small amounts, beating continuously after each addition.

Alternately add almond extract, salt and cream of tartar, beating until thick and glossy. Carefully fold in dried blueberries, being careful not to break the berries.

Pile blueberry meringue into baked crumb crust. With back of wet tablespoon, make swirl designs in meringue.

Bake at 300 degrees for about 15 minutes or just until top browns slightly. Let cool before cutting.

Keep a jar of spiced crab apples on hand to serve with ham steaks or pork chops that are to be cooked on the outdoor grill. (Remember to cook those pork chops until the meat is white through; make a small slit to test.)

Although raw onion wedges are usually used to thread between pieces of lamb or beef for skewered broiling, drained canned whole small onions may be substituted. This is a good idea for those eaters who want their onions really tender — a stage not achieved during skewer cookery with the raw vegetable.

Cooking Is Fun . . .

TRUE LEMON SHERBET
(For hand - cranked or electric freezer)

½ cup sugar, 1 cup light corn syrup, 3 cups milk, grated rind of 2 lemons, ¾ cup lemon juice, crushed ice, rock (ice cream) salt.

In a bowl stir together the sugar, corn syrup, milk, grated lemon rind and lemon juice until the sugar dissolves; don't worry about the slight curdling. In a 2-quart freezer, freeze according to manufacturer's directions or use general directions below for electric or hand-cranked freezer. Makes about 1½ quarts. Double recipe for a 4-quart freezer.

Electric freezer method: Fit dasher into can. Pour sherbet mixture into can; set can into tub. Pack tub full with alternate layers of crushed ice and rock salt, using 8 parts of ice to 1 part salt (8 cups crushed ice and 1 cup rock salt). To start, use about a 3-inch layer of ice in the bottom, then alternate ice and salt. Occasionally drain melted ice; add more ice and salt if needed.

If freezer has multiple speeds, turn on low speed at beginning, increasing power as mixture freezes. When mixture is thick but still soft — in about 20 minutes remove dasher. Wipe top carefully, pack down sherbet; cover; plug hole.

Fill to top with ice and salt, using 4 parts ice to 1 part rock salt (4 cups crushed ice to 1 cup rock salt). Cover with a large folded cloth or towel. Ripen 2 to 3 hours or until firm.

Hand-cranked freezer method: Use directions for electric freezer, except turn by hand using a slow action in the beginning, and increasing speed as the mixture thickens. Turn until crank no longer turns easily.

Ripening Note: Instead of repacking sherbet in ice cream freezer, pack in suitable containers and place in home freezer until firm. It gets better and better as it mellows!

Flavor Note: The amount of lemon rind and juice called for in this recipe makes a sherbet with a tangy flavor. It's particularly delicious served with vanilla ice cream.

FRENCH OR PLAIN OMELET
(Makes 1 or 2 servings)

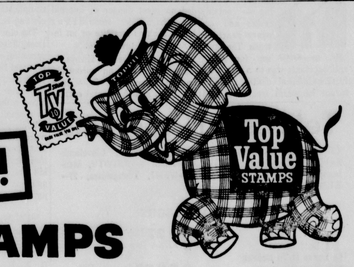

Three eggs, 3 tablespoons water, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix eggs, water, salt and pepper with a fork until yolks and whites are blended. Meanwhile, heat butter in an omelet pan or a heavy skillet just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture all at once. Mixture should begin to cook immediately at the outer edges. With the fork, lift cooked portions at edges so uncooked portions flow underneath. Slide pan rapidly back and forth over the heat to keep mixture in motion and sliding freely to avoid sticking.

When mixture is set, the egg no longer flows freely. The omelet is moist and creamy on top. Let it cook about one minute to brown the bottom slightly. Fold or roll, and serve promptly on a warm platter. Omelet should be tender and light, moist and delicately brown on the bottom. Use a 7 to 8 inch omelet pan or heavy skillet.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

The Use of Anticoagulants

There are three main types of anticoagulants: warfarin, which has gained a wide use as a rat poison (the rats die from internal hemorrhage), heparin, and phenindione.

Dr. Brandstadt

For over 20 years anticoagulants have been given to persons who suffered from the results of internal clotting — notably strokes and coronary heart attacks. The reason for giving anticoagulants was to prevent further internal clotting. This meant long-term treatment with these drugs, and mean striking a balance between the dose needed to prevent clotting and the amount that would cause internal bleeding, as in the unsuspecting rat.

IN ORDER TO walk this tightrope it is necessary for the person who is taking anticoagulants to have frequent checkups of the amount of clotting elements in his blood. Under careful medical supervision such persons are unded no great danger of internal hemorrhage unless some other factor such as frostbite or an infection enters the picture.

They are, however, always in danger of having an uncontrollable hemorrhage following a small cut, and if a dental extraction or other operation becomes necessary, special precautions must be taken to prevent severe loss of blood.

Thousands of doctors are still giving their patients anticoagulants and appear to be dstisfied with the results. But an increasing number of reports now suggest that long range survival chances are as good or better when no anticoagulants are given.

RECENTLY, anticoagulants have been put to two new uses. Contradictory as it might seem, some hemorrhages are apparently caused by excessive amounts of some of the clotting elements. Then heparin may be given to stop the bleeding. That should give you some idea of what a complicated mechanism blood clotting is.

The other unexpected use of anticoagulants has to do with the spread of malignant tumors. Plasmin and heparin have been shown to reduce spreading by keeping the tumor cells circulating in the blood rather than coming to rest in a small clot.

While still circulating they were more readily reached by drugs that slow their growth. If drugs that not only slow them up but kill them can be found, anticoagulants may be a valuable adjunct to such treatment.

MEANWHILE, many doctors are convinced that the dangers of giving anticoagulants far outweigh any theoretical advantages. Dr. D. A. Rytland of Stanford University, believes that many of the favorable reports of the use of anticoagulants in the treatment of stroke and heart attacks are based on satistical errors.

If after 20 years of use a large part of the scientific world is in doubt about the value of these drugs, it is highly improbable that they are of any worth, claims Rytand.

Cooking Is Fun

By Cecily Brownstone

FLAVORSOME MEAT LOAF

Two eggs, 1 cup vegetable juice cocktail, 2 tablespoons instant onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 pound ground beef chuck, 4 slices bacon.

In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs slightly; add the vegetable juice cocktail, onion, salt, pepper and bread crumbs; mix thoroughly. Add meat and mix well. Rinse a loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) with cold water; pack meat mixture into pan; turn out on a shallow pan. Place bacon strips over meat. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 1 hour.

SUMMER PUNCH

One and one-half cups light corn syrup, ½ top strongly brewed tea, ½ cup lemon juice, 3/4 cup orange juice, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1 quart cold water, 1 bottle (4 ounces) maraschino cherries, if desired, 1 pint gingerale, chilled.

Mix together corn syrup, tea, lemon juice, orange juice, pineapple juice, water and, if used, the cherries. Chill. Add gingerale just before serving. Serve as is or over ice cubes. Makes 2½ quarts, enough for about 12 servings.

Note: If cherries are not used, punch may be tinted a delicate pink by adding a few drops of red food coloring.

BLUEBERRY FRITTERS

One cup sifted flour, ½ cup enriched corn meal, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 eggs, beaten, ½ cup milk, 2 tablespoons shortening, melted, 1 cup fresh blueberries.

Sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add eggs, milk and shortening; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Lightly stir in blueberries. Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot deep fat (360 degrees). Cook 3 to 3½ minutes, turning only once. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot with lemon sauce. Makes 15 fritters.

CURRIED FRIED CHICKEN
(6 servings)

Two and one-half pound frying chicken, 3/4 cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon curry powder, ½ teaspoon black pepper, ½ cup vegetable shortening or lard.

Wash chicken and cut into serving pieces. While chicken is wet, dredge each piece in a mixture of the flour, salt, curry powder and black pepper. Heat shortening until hot in a heavy iron or heavy aluminum skillet. Put the flour-dredged chicken in, having the hot fat come up about halfway. Fry slowly, turning to brown both sides, until golden brown and tender.

VIENNESE BOILED BEEF
(6 to 8 servings)

Two to 3 pounds beef bottom round, 6 cups water, 2 envelopes Swiss recipe spring vegetable soup mix.

Combine beef and water in kettle. Cover; bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer 1 hour per pound of meat, turning meat occasionally, remove beef from kettle. Cool broth and skim off hardened fat. Heat broth to liquid consistency. Add beef and stir in soup mixes. Simmer 30 minutes.

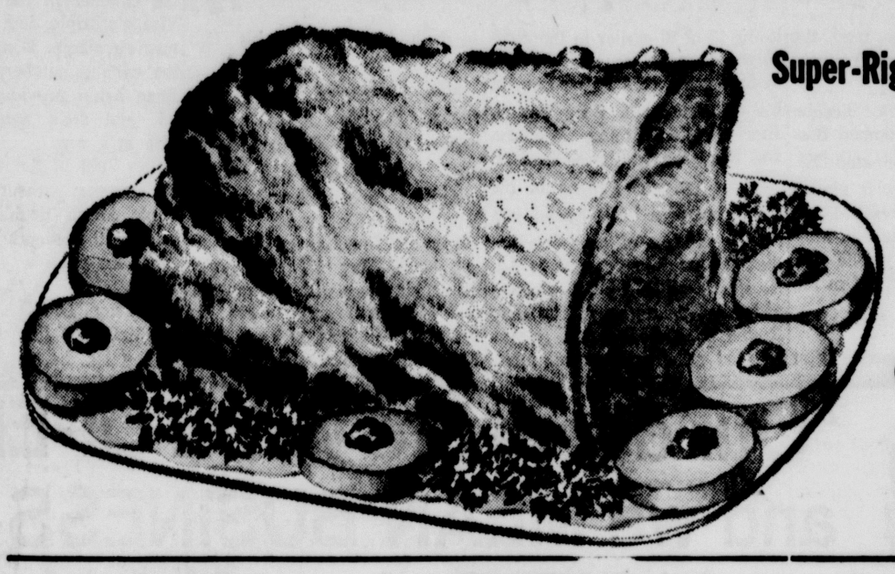

GRAVY BEANS

One pound snap beans, 1 envelope (3/4 ounces) mushroom gravy mix, 1 cup milk, 1 or 2 teaspoons instant onion, 1 can (3 ounces) chopped mushrooms (if desired).

Cook the beans whole in boiling salted water; drain and cut into ½-inch crosswise pieces. Make up gravy mix according to envelope directions using the 1 cup milk instead of the 1 cup cold water called for and the onion. Add beans and mushrooms (if used) and reheat. Makes 6 servings.

McBride Silences Tribe War Clubs In LA's 2-1 Win

Indians Get Only 3 Hits

Both Units Meet In Doubleheader Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — All-Star pitcher Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels was just that as he fired a three-hitter in a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.

The smooth - throwing right-hander, who toiled on Cleveland sandlots in his school days, gained his 10th victory and seventh of his last eight decisions as he struck out six and didn't let the Indians get a runner past first base after the third inning. Two of the hits he allowed were infield singles.

And McBride wasn't just a good pitcher. He started the Angeles' two-run winning rally in the third with a double. He moved to third on Albie Pearson s bunt single and scored on a fielder's choice.

Lee Thomas' bloop single scored Jim Fregosi, a former high school track star, from first with all the runs McBride needed.

Cleveland scored its only tally in the third on a walk to rookie scond baseman Larry Brown. Pitcher Jim Grant's bunt forced Brown, but left fielder Tito Francona sent Grant to third with the only solid hit off McBride, a single to right. Dick Howser fouled out to Billy Moran and the Mudcat sped home.

McBride was the master after that, setting the Tribe down on one hit the rest of the way—a single by Brown off the third base bag. Brown was caught in a rundown and McBride retired the next 11 batters in order until Joe Adcock, batting for Howser, walked with one out in the ninth.

Early Wynn, making his first appearance since winning his 300th game last Saturday, pitched scorless ball for Cleveland in the eighth, although he allowed two hits. A double play helped him out of trouble.

The Indians suffered their fourth straight defeat and Grant lost his ninth game against six wins.

Grant worked seven innings and allowed seven hits. This was the first time the Angels had beaten him since Aug. 12, 1961. He has a 5-2 career record against them.

The Indians, now in sixth place, will send southpaw Jack Kralick (9-7) and Jerry Walker (6-2), making his first start of the season, against the Angels in a twi-night doubleheader tonight. Dean Chance of Wooster (7-9) and either Mel Nelson (2-3) or Paul Foytack (1-3) will work for Los Angeles.

Barnett's Horse Races At Northfield Tonight

Salem-owned two-year old filly, Prize Abbe posts her sixth start of her short racing career in tonight's ninth and final race at Northfield Park.

Already a winner this year in five starts, Prize Abbe, who drew post position No. 5 in tonight's race, is owned by Dale Barnett and will be driven by Gene Brown, also of Salem.

In five starts, Prize Abbe with Brown at the helm hasn't been back of fifth place, although some of those starts were in qualifying trial races. In her last start a week ago, Prize Abbe finished a close third. Her closing odds were 23 to 1.

A field of seven other two and three year old pacers will oppose the Salem horse.

North Jackson Team Beats Atwater 10-2

North Jackson won its 10th game in 13 starts by defeating Atwater, 10-2, at the winners' home field Tuesday. North Jackson scored six runs in the last half of the first inning to wrap up the game.

Sinn's homer with two men on base, and Terry Raeburn's triple with a mate aboard, were the big blows in North Jacksons six hit attack. Keck held the visitors to two hits and two runs, all coming in the second inning. Kirby and Mallory divided the pitching chores for Atwater.

North Jackson will travel to Edinburg this evening for the season's final game. A victory will give Jackson the loop title in the Portage Southern F league. Jackson's three defeats came in early losses to Randolph and Edinburg, and a recent 11 - 10 loss to Rootstown.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The world's top professionals, with hardly a critical whimper among them, will set out Thursday in the first round of the Professional Golfers Association Championship over a course they say they like—believe it or not—even if it is baked by 100-degree heat.

"It's a good, fair course," Arnold Palmer said today. "Sure it's hot but when you play a tournament in Texas in July you expect that."

"I don't remember ever seeing a course used for a major championship that is so well-conditioned and so fair," echoed Mike Souchak. "There are 18 tough holes out there, tough but fair. The fairways are fine and the greens are the best. You can't ask for much more than that."

The object of this sweeping praise is the 7,046-yard, par 36-35—71 Dallas Athletic Club course where a talent-jammed field of 167 will begin hammering away at 7 a.m., Thursday, for the third in America's annual triple of prestige tournaments.

It's also the last chance for Palmer, the king of golf the last four years, to win a major championship in a year in which he has banked more money than anyone else in PGA history and yet hasn't hauled in one of the big ones.

No one can call a year in which he has won a record $88,150.18 an off year but so far this season Palmer has been off his feed in the big ones—although he staggered into a three-way playoff in the U.S. Open before finishing third behind Julius Boros and Jacky Cupit. He was well down the list in the Masters, won by Jack Nicklaus, and last week wound up 27th in the British Open, won by the New Zealand left-hander, Bob Charles.

The fact that he's overdue, plus his record of never having won the PGA championship, have made the Latrobe, Pa., master a 4-1 favorite in the 72-hole medal play championship.

BATTING — Willie McCovey, Giants, homered in each game of the Giants' doubleheader split with Pittsburgh. McCovey's ninth-inning homer won the opener 3-2. Pittsburgh took the second by the same score despite McCovey's 28th home run and run-scoring single which extended his hitting streak to 21 games.

PITCHING — Bobby Shantz, Cardinals, fanned eight of the batters he faced in a brilliant 3 2-3 inning relief stint and was credited with St. Louis' 5-4 victory over Cincinnati in 10 innings.

Koufax Picks Up 16th As Dodgers Split Pair; McCovey Hits Safely In 21st Straight Game

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A brilliant left-handed pitcher sparking a pennant drive and a rangy slugger on a club in the throes of critical slump continue as the hottest items in the National League.

Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants, each starred again Tuesday night in doubleheader splits.

Koufax fired his ninth straight victory and 16th of the season at Philodelphia, going six perfect innings and finishing with a six-hitter in a 5-2 victory. The Phils rebounded against the first-place Dodgers in the second game, romping 10-2 with a 12-hit attack led by Johnny Callison.

McCovey belted a homer in each game at Pittsburgh, extending his hitting streak to 21 games and his homer total to 28, and won the opener 3-2 with a two-out homer in the ninth inning. Then the Giants dropped the secon game, 3-2, falling into fourth place with the seventh loss in their last nine games.

Cubs Blank Braves 1-0

Chicago's runner-up Cubs edged to within 5½ lengths of the top, taking Milwaukee 1-0 on a four-pitcher shutout and Ken Hubbs' homer. St. Louis moved into sole possession of third, nipping Cincinnati 5-4 on a 10th inning squeeze bunt by Tim McCarver and Bobby Shantz's fine relief pitching. New York's last-place Mets clipped Houston 4-3 with a ninth-inning run in the other NL game.

Koufax. gunning for his fourth straight shutout and 10th of the year, retired the first 18 Phils in order as the Dodgers built a 5-0 cushion. But Tony Taylor nicked Koufax for a leadoff double in the seventh and eventually scored on Tony Gonzalez' sacrifice fly for the first run off the star lefty Hoak and Earl Averill gave the Phils another run in the eighth.

The Dodgers got their five runs and 12 hits off loser Art Mahaffey and Chris Short, with Wally Moon socking a homer and Jim Gilliam two doubles.

Callison Clouts 2 Homers

Callison walloped two homers and two singles in the second game, which the Phillies wrapped up with three runs in the first off Nick Willite and four more in the third against Ed Roebuck. Dallas Green went the distance for Philadelphia.

McCovey, who has totaled 14 homers during his 21-game hitting string, connected in the top of the ninth in the opener at Pittsburgh against Don Cardwell. Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda also homered for the Giants as they ended the Pirates' winning streak at five.

McCovey sent San Francisco off winging in the second game with a first-inning homer, and tied it at 2-2 with a run-scoring single in the third. But the Pirates got the clincher in the fifth on Bill Virdon's triple and Roberto Clemente's single. Don Schwall was the winning pitcher, with A McBean again providing strong relief. and Jack Sanford ost his fifth in a row.

Bob Buhl of the Cubs checked the Braves without a hit until Hank Aaron doubled with two away in the seventh inning at Chicago. He gave way to the heat and humidity in the eighth, and Don Eston, Dick Lemay and Lindy McDaniel limited Milwaukee to one hit the rest of the way.

Senators Knock Off White Sox 3-1

Miller's Clutch Relief Performance Earns Orioles 5-2 Triumph; A's Romp

By JOE REICHLER
Associaed Press Sports Writer

Relief specialist Stu Milles, believed to have lost his mound magic a year ago, is up to his old tricks and breathing new life into the Baltimore Orioles' American League pennant aspirations.

The Butterfly Man, who earned his nickname because of the way he confounded National League batters with his tantalizing slow curves, was traded to Baltimore last winter by the San Francisco Giants who palmed him off as all washed up.

Error May Hurt Giants

This error in judgment may have cost the Giants a second straight championship. Little Stu has never been better.

Now in his 11th year in the big leagues, the 34-year-old right-hander is still befuddling enemy batters and bailing out his teammates with spectacular rescue work.

Miller came through with another clutch relief performance Tuesday night helping Milt Pappas and the Orioles sew up a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. It was his ninth emergency in the last 14 days and his seventh save in that span, during which he was credited with one of the 10 Oriole victories.

The triumph boosted the Orioles to within one percentage point of fourth-place Minnesota and just a half game behind the second-place Boston Red Sox, who trail the front-running New York Yankees by six lengths.

In other American League games, Kansas City bombed Boston 11-0, Washington defeated Chicago 3-1 and Los Angeles nipped Cleveland 2-1. Rain washed out the Yankee-Twins contest in Minnesota, halting play while the league leaders were at bat in the second inning.

Lost 22 Of 30 Earlier

Baltimore, back in stride after losing 22 of 30 earlier in the campaign, slammed four home runs to thwart Detroit's Frank Lary in his comeback bid. Boog Powell, Jim Gentile, Brooks Robinson and Bob Johnson hit the homers.

Miller relieved Pappas in the eighth out of a bases-loaded jam at the expense of only one run that cut Baltimore's lead to 3-2. He struck out Rocky Colavito and ended the inning by getting Billy Bruton on a slow roller. It was his 42nd relief appearance, most in both leagues, and his 15th save. He also has won three.

Moe Drabowsky pitched the shutout for the Athletics who bombed Boston pitching for 15 hits. The veteran right-hander permitted the Red Sox only four hits for his first victory of the season and first Kansas City shutout since May 17. Drabowsky helped his cause with a home run and a two-run single when his teammates jumped on loser Dave Morehead for five runs.

Lantz's One-Hitter Blanks CIO 5-0

Farmers Bank, Elks Tie 4-4

Darkness Halts Tilt After Extra Innings

A solid one-hit pitching performance by Bliss' Jim Lantz blanked CIO 3372 5-0 in a Class E contest at Centennial north field Tuesday.

Farmers Bank one of the two teams to knock off Class F leader Elks this season, battled the front runners to a 4-4 tie in a contest that was called because of darkness at Memorial North.

In other Salem Junior Baseball League action, Sekely nipped Shaffer Ford 10-9 at Memorial South.

KENNY KENST AND RICK Royle combined to toss a one-hitter as Hunts Industrial Union blanked the Italian Club 14-0 at Memorial West, and Petrucci's knocked off the Lions Club 9-1 at Centennial South in Class G competition.

CIO 1538 clipped Merchants Vending 9-5 at Reilly Field and Independent Hose Club beat the Jaycees 29-12 at Buckeye Field in Class H contests.

Rick Gregg spoiled Lantz's bid for a no-hitter when he singled with two down in the first inning.

Bliss took a 2-0 lead in the bottom half of the initial session on a walk and singles by "Chip" Mosher and Tom Marple. Gary Stoddard got the only extra base hit of the game when he belted a triple in the third to drive in Marple who had walked.

Farmer Bank and Elks were deadlocked at the end of the ninth when the umpire called it off. The loop leaders had to rally to even get the tie.

The Bankers had taken a 2-0 lead by the third frame, but Elks retaliated to tie the score in the bottom of the sixth. In the top of the ninth, a walk, an error and a single by Bill Karnofel gave Farmers Bank a 4-2 margin.

Three walks, two errors and a fielder's choice tied the score in the bottom half of the frame.

John Paul Tolson went the distance for the Elks, giving up four hits, striking out 16 and walking eight. Ron Whitehill also hurled the nine innings for Farmers, giving up seven hits, striking out 12 and walking six.

-:-

KARNOFEL also doubled to lead the Bankers with two hits. Ellsworth had a triple and single for the Elks.

Sekely rallied in the seventh with five runs to earn its victory. Mike Palmer and Harry Owens each had two hits.

Ward Wally led off the first inning with a double and that was the only hit the Italian Club got. Bob Beeson led the winners with a double and two singles.

Pitcher Scott Cody of Petrucci's gave up only three hits, striking out 16 and walking one. He also belted a triple, double and two singles.

Jim Shoff collected Merchant Vendings' two hits. Winning hurler Jeff Martin had a triple and double for CIO 1538.

Tom Galchick and Jim Greenamyer led Independent Hose with two hits apiece as the winners scored runs in every inning but the fifth. John Primm had two of the losers' three hits.

Browns' Mentor Doesn't Expect Any Holdouts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier says he expects no holdouts among the veterans on the 1963 professional football squad when training camp opens next week. Tuesday after Bob Gain, a regular on the Browns' defensive line since 1955, signed his 11th contract. Gain captained the East squad in the annual Pro - Bowl game at Los Angeles last January and handled the place kicking chores.

According to Collier, four players have discussed terms by telephone and will sign contracts when they report at the Hiram College training camp Sunday. They are Ernie Green, Monte Clark, Andy Cvercko and Jim Shorter.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Fishing has slowed down over the past week and I doubt if anyone can predict what this week will provide. There are some very nice channel cats being caught at Guilford from 12 to 22 inches, along with bullheads and an occasional bass being taken.

Drift fishing seems to be the most productive now. Simply select your preferred bait and start at the lake's edge and let the wind tow you across the lake. If you don't get a fish you can at least enjoy the scenery without extending any effort.

GIZZARD SHAD hatched this year should be traveling in schools now. When this begins the bass feed on them. The thing to do is select some small spinner and cast around the edge of the school. When a bass makes a pass at the shad they leap out of the water leaving only your lure present for him to get hooked. That means he gets the shad that did not get away too late to learn it had a hook in it.

I see where the AAA Motor Club of Columbiana County will conduct a mystery tour for club members. Directions and maps may be obtained at either the Salem or East Liverpool offices. Spots to be visited will be the covered bridges, Morgan's Monument, Guilford Lake State Park, Beaver Creek area and Lusk Lock.

SO MANY RESIDENTS have never visited these spots and know very little about the scenic beauty of Columbiana County. I also recommend they make a short trip down the Ohio River from East Liverpool to a point in Jefferson County in order to see the beautiful new highway along the Ohio River. Take your cameras.

Looks as though the squirrels are going to have it tough next winter. There will be no hickory nuts, walnuts, pignuts or beech. Even acorns will be scarce. About the only means of survival will be to live on the succulent buds on various trees along with all the corn they can get at in the fields.

Individuals who feed squirrels on their premises will have to buy pecans and English walnuts from the local groceryman and that will be expensive squirrel food.

Long range forecasts predict another hard winter like last winter and if this happens no one can say for sure what will happen to the squirrels.

Tom Grace of Powder Puff, Flick Entriken of Franklin Market, and Don White and Ralph Knepper of Corso's Wine finished with 37s. Dick Fisher of Lincoln Machine shot a 38 and Demps Balsley of Penn Grill carded a 39.

Shamrock Lanes (71) swept to a 12-0 victory to push last week's leader Flying B into third place with 67½. Duquesne is second with 69.

Don Fife Pitches Both Ends Of Twin Bill

Bliss Chalks Up 2 Victories In City Softball Loop Action

An iron man pitching performance by Don Fife, who tossed both ends of a doubleheader pace Bliss to a stunning 3-1 upset over the Salem Merchants and a 6 - 0 decision over Alliance Ware in City Softball League action at Kelley Field last night.

The two wins moved Bliss into second place in the Class A standings with an 11-8 mark. It was the 10th victory in 11 starts for the winners.

The Merchants took a 1-0 lead in the fourth frame on two walks, a fielder's choice, hit batter, an error and a single by Gene Hammett.

Bliss picked up its three markers in the bottom of the fifth on an error, a walk and singles by Ed Stefane and Charley Blue.

Fife was in real trouble in the first inning against Alliance Ware. With one out back-to-back singles by Ralph Johnson and Norm Harbaugh and a walk loaded the bases. The Bliss hurler got the next two batters on a strike out and a ground out.

Bliss took a 3-0 lead in the second on two walks, two fielders choices and singles by Ken Niles and Jack Deffenbaugh.

Niles and Deffenbaugh led the winners with two hits apiece. Jack Ackerman, Jim Ramser and Joe Ricci had two hits each for the losers.

Fife picked up hits ninth and 10th wins of the season. He has lost five times.

Texas, under the Compromise of 1850, sold its claims to lands that now make up one-half of New Mexico and parts of Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Wyoming, at a price of $10 million.

2 Whites, Negro Give Racial Views

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In some memorable words a Negro and two segregationist governors got their views before Congress these past few days on just and unjust laws and the rights of whites and Negroes.

The Negro was the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and leader of demonstrations against racial discrimination.

From jail last April in Birmingham, after being arrested for leading a parade without a permit, he wrote a letter to eight white, troubled clergymen. Several House members had it printed Monday in the Congressional Record.

The governors—Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi and George C. Wallace of Alabama—both tried this past year to defy a federal court order to admit Negroes to their state universities. They yielded only when President Kennedy used troops.

These two men testified before the Senate Commerce Committee, which is considering that part of Kennedy's civil rights bill—the public accommodations part—which would forbid business places dealing with the public to discriminate against Negroes.

In the governors' testimony—attacking the Kennedy administration and suggesting Communists were behind the Negroes' protests against mistreatment—the simple question behind it all got sidetracked.

Since the Constitution guarantees all citizens equal treatment, and the Negro is a citizen, why isn't he and why shouldn't he be given the same treatment as whites?

Barnett said the President and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, are encouraging demonstrations inspired by Communists and the attorney general has been personally responsible for "putting mobs in the streets."

He implied there would be general defiance of the accommodations bill, if it became law; he said it would mean the end of constitutional government; and he predicted "racial violence of unimaginable scope."

He asked: "How far do you think the great white majority of this nation will stand to be pushed?" (King in his letter said the reason Negroes are asserting themselves now is because they have been pushed too far too long.)

Wallace took the same line as Barnett. He said the Kennedy brothers are sponsoring "a revolution of government against the people." Any branch of government, in his view, which wants equal treatment for Negroes appears wrong.

He said Kennedy's executive branch, whose actions he denounced, has ignored the Constitution while the Supreme Court, which has consistently upheld Negroes' rights, has "perverted the Constitution."

Wallace, like Barnett, predicted violent defiance of the Kennedy bill if it became law. He said the government would need so many troops "to police America" it would have to bring all thos overseas home.

Although Wallace said he has "full respect for constitutional government," he said he wouldn't do anything to help enforce a public accommodations law and would "let the federal folk try to enforce it."

Before he finished, Wallace took a crack at King, referring to "Martin Luther King and his Communist friends."

Thus, while the two governors sworn to uphold the law were predicting defiance of law, they were condemning Negro demonstrators jailed for violating city laws against disturbing the peace or parading without a permit.

King, in his letter to eight Christian and Jewish clergymen, said, "You express a great deal of anxiety over our willingness to break laws.

"There comes a time when the cup of endurance runs over and men are no longer willing to be plunged into an abyss of injustice where they experience the bleakness of corroding despair. I hope, sirs, you can understand our legitimate and unavoidable impatience.

"Since we so diligently urge people to obey the Supreme Court's decision of 1954 outlawing segregation in the public schools (the ruling Barnett and Wallace both defied), it is rather strange and paradoxical to find us consciously breaking laws."

King explained the Negroes' attitude toward laws:

"Let us turn to a concrete example of just and unjust laws. An unjust law is a code that a majority inflicts on a minority and that is not binding on itself. This is difference made legal.

"On the other hand, a just law is a code that a majority compels a minority to follow that is is willing to follow itself. This is sameness made legal."

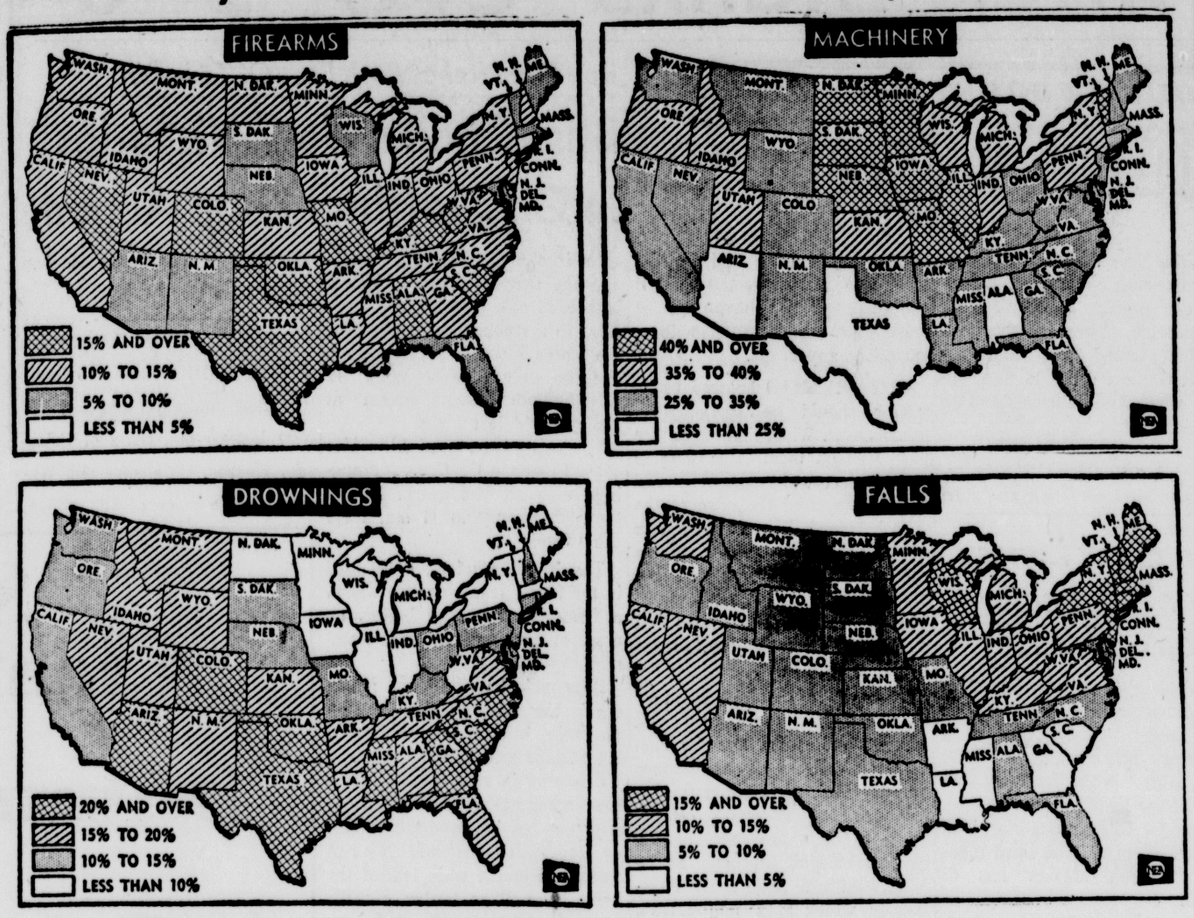

Strouss Plans Two Stores At Plazas

The Strouss-Hirshberg Co. has completed plans for establishing stores in the Boardman and Liberty Plaza, it was revealed in a joint announcement today by R. Burton Kerr, president of Strouss-Hirshberg, and Edward J. DeBartolo, owner of the two centers.

The Boardman Plaza store is scheduled to open in November, 1963, and the Liberty Plaza store in February, 1964. Each will comprise in excess of 30,000 square feet of floor area.

Strouss-Hirshberg's now operates a department store in downtown Youngstown as well as branches in Salem, Warren, New Castle and Sharon.

Farm Safety Week Paradox: Fewer Farmers, More Mishaps

"INSPECTION PLUS CORRECTION EQUALS PROTECTION"—That's the formula safety experts of the Department of Agriculture and National Safety Council are asking the nation's farmers to apply during National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27. Though the number of people living on farms is decreasing, the rate of fatal accidents per 100,000 farm residents is going up. • Newscharts give cause of fatalities by percentages in four major categories for farm accidents, 1949-1959. Data: Agricultural Research Service, and National Office of Vital Statistics. Alaska, Hawaii figures for the period are not available.

Service Aims Stressed For Columbiana Rotary

COLUMBIANA — Tom Hess, international service chairman of Columbiana Rotary Club, presented a discussion on the committee's projects for the coming year and asked for comments concerning the continuance of the projects at Monday's Rotary meeting.

Hess cited in particular the club's international exchange of materials, such as correspondence, film and tapes, with their partner club located in Toowoomba, Queensland, Australia.

He also read a letter received recently from the club's 14-year-old foster child in Korea. Hess stated it costs the club $180 a year to sponsor the girl, which is the most costly of all his committee's projects.

There were two visiting Rotarians, Donald Barcus of Sebring and Lewis Arnold of Boardman. Rev. H. F. Sarahs of Manchester, N. H., was a guest of Hess.

Next week's program will feature Mrs. Ethel Schobel of Youngstown, employment manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. office in Youngstown. Charles Wright is program chairman.

RAYMOND MOSER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moser of RD 2, Columbiana, has been named to the dean's list at Youngstown University for the second semester. Moser, who will graduate in August with a bachelor of science degree in education, has accepted a position in the Mineral Ridge school system.

Monday's Kiwanis meeting featured the club's president, Tracy Powell, who gave an account of the Kiwanis Convention which he and Mrs. Powell attended June 30 to July 4 in Atlantic City, N. J.

Guest of the club was Barney Freeman of Lakeworth, Fla., a former member of the local organization.

Next week's program will be in charge of the agriculture and conservation committee, with Ryan Snyder as chairman.

Counties Ask To Be 'Disaster' Areas

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Portage County and Trumbull County to its east have asked Gov. James A. Rhodes to declare the counties drought disaster areas. Geauga and Ashtabula counties, to the immediate north, made similar requests earlier this month.

Dairy farms, which are numerous in the area, face hardship in feeding stock through the coming winter because lack of rain has ruined the hay crop. The result was that hay, which would have been stored for the winter, is now being consumed for feed.

Having the counties declared disaster areas would enable farmers to use soil bank land for hay and forage crops nd would provide funds to enable them to buy winter feed supplies at reduced rates.

HOCOLATE VELVET

Nine ounces semi-sweet chocolate, 3/4 cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup water, ½ teaspoon vanilla. If the chocolate is in bar form, cut it in small pieces -- there should be 1½ cups. In a heavy saucepan over very low heat stir together the chocolate and corn syrup until chocolate melts. Add water; stir until combined. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Makes about 1 3/4 cups. If very low heat is used, sauce will be warm and non-sticky when served over ice cream. Store remaining sauce in refrigerator and reheat over hot water.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Thank you, Mr. Ashley, for your letter and the donation toward my cost of these articles on abuses of people by small town law enforcement officers.

We as business people can see the great harm they can do to a wide area but it is very difficult to get them to understand. Their desire for easy money makes them very narrow-minded.

This kind of thing has been put to an end in many places through the efforts of people like us. I think we have an extra difficult problem here.
